conducted under the auspices of the OBI Diversity and Democracy cluster and with the participation of faculty from the School of Law (including the Jurisprudence and Social Policy Program). The successful candidate will hold a tenured faculty appointment in the School of Law.

We are interested in senior scholars who have demonstrated excellence in research, teaching and service, and a commitment to building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia. Early applications are encouraged. Additional materials may be requested of top candidates.

The University is responsive to the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. For information about family friendly resources, potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit:
